Monitor Sports Day the Best In History. Ideal Weather Prevails

Sounding Creek Bags 1st Baseball money, Monitor 2nd.

With perfectly ideal weather conditions, prospects of a bumper crop and everyone in the best of spirits, it [illegible] to be wondered at that Monitor Sports Day proved to be such a splendid success. At the most conservative estimate, fully 500 people were present in the town on July 1st, and, as it was so often repeated, it was just like "the good old days"

At about 1 p.m. the crowd commenced to spread over to the Fair Grounds, and by 1.30 the fun commenced. The Monitor Citizens Band started the Ball with a few Overtures, and then the first Ball game was called. This match was between the Eye Hill Ball Team and Monitor and was rather unexciting. The score at the end being 21-2 in favor of Monitor. Sounding Creek and Loverna were the next teams to wrestle on the diamond, and it appeared at the start that the game would consist of a chewing match. Loverna objected to Sounding Creek playing Lisgaard, and also objected because they had not their entry in at the time specified. However, Lovernas team was plugged also so it was about 50-50 on that score. Eventually, the game got away to a start, and Loverna went down to defeat to the score of 8 to 2. This left the final game to be played off between Sounding Creek and Monitor after supper, and Monitor likewise suffered defeat at the hands of Sounding Creek, score 10 1. It might not be out of place to mention here the somewhat uncanny playing of Mr. Perry the one-armed player for the Creek. We doubt if there is another one-armed player in all America who can swat the pill and field with such dead certainty as this man. The first time at the bat, he connected for a 3-bagger, and his fielding was not slow either.

The various foot and horse races were run off at intervals during the afternoon. Following are the names of the winners and those coming second.

The dance in evening was also exceptionally well attended. McCowans Orchestra supplied the music for the occasion, which was well received.

The Sports Committee wish to take this opportunity of thanking those who in any way assisted towards making the day such a wonderful success. Many items were left to the last minute to be attended to, but owing to the splendid spirit of co-operation being so prevalent there was nothing lacking. The Main Street decorations were better than they have ever been before, and the holiday-spirit ruled everywhere.

The Monitor Citizens Band wish to express their thanks and appreciation to J. H. McGirr, Esqr., for his handsome donation of $25.00 to the Band Funds. This gift, coming so unexpectedly was very acceptable and will do much towards putting a little "pep" into the Band which was dying a natural death from non-appreciation Far be it from us to "blow our own horn" in this matter, but it is indeed peculiar how little interest is shown by the citizens of Monitor to the Band, which is such an asset to any community.

It is indeed worth of mention that after all bills, prizes and donations had been paid, the Sports Committee were left with $75 to the good. Such a splendid result from the day will do much towards us having a similar day next year.

The hearty thanks of the whole district are due Messrs Matheson, Larder, West, McGirr, Deadmarsh, Ferguson and Craig. It was due to the untiring energy of these gentlemen that the day was possible.

Our Duty to Canada

In this column last week, using the celebration of Dominion Day as a text, reference was made to the bright, even glorious, future before this country, provided the Canadian people, profiting by the lessons and experience of the past, threw themselves with sincerity and downright honesty of purpose and vigorous effort into the inspiring task of cultivating a true national spirit based on a Christian tolerance, a broad sympathy, and a real desire to understand one another, coupled with an enlightened and progressive policy of development of the Dominion's great wealth of natural resources.

The more one studies Canada's position among the nations today in the light of the world's requirements of those things which Canada can supply, the more does one become enthusiastically optimistic over this country's future. The realization of true national greatness however, rests with the people themselves, rather than in the extent of our fertile fields, the hidden wealth of our mines, the great stretches of our forests, or the teeming millions of fish in our lakes, rivers and along our sea coasts. These are but the means, the tools ready to hand. Their development for use depends upon the character, the intelligence, the energy of the Canadian people.

In turn, the standard of Canadian manhood and womanhood depends upon the moral character of our people, individually and collectively; upon their educational training and attainments; upon their physical fitness, strength and general well-being from the standpoint of health; in a word, upon their conception of what life really is, and what things are worth while, permanent, and leading to something better and greater.

Not to moralize at too great length, the question may well be asked: Has the average Canadian seriously questioned himself as to his personal duty and responsibility to Canada? Or is the average Canadian so busy looking out for Number One that he gives little thought to what he owes to his country and fellow citizens?

These thoughts are suggested by a brief news item appearing recently in the daily press reporting the conviction of a prominent physician in Ontario for attempting to evade the Federal Income Tax. This man, in receipt of an average income of $11,000 a year for the past three years, made returns to the government indicating an income of less than 25 percent of the sum actually received. This man, no doubt, would never dream of burglarizing his neighbor's house, or cheating his friends, nevertheless he sought to rob his fellow citizens by attempting to defraud the treasury of Canada.

This man lacked the national spirit which will make Canada strong and great. He apparently thought it was all right to cheat the government, which is merely another way of saying, cheating Canada. And the thought obtrudes itself: Are there not many more people who through complete evasion of the Income Tax, or the making of incomplete returns, or by smuggling, and in various other ways, defraud Canada who would hesitate to steal a five-cent piece from a neighbor?

It may be that, as individuals, we disapprove of customs tariffs, income and luxury taxes, and other methods through which the national revenue is raised, and it is our legitimate right to agitate and educate for reforms in taxation, but so long as the methods in vogue are the law of the land, it is the duty of every loyal citizen to abide by and observe those laws. It is just as dishonest to rob the public treasury as it is to rob a bank or a store.

Refusal to obey the laws of the land, no matter how unpopular they may be, or how much opposed to them any individual citizen may be, is evidence of a lack of that national spirit through which alone can any country be elevated to a high plane. The citizen who himself seeks to dodge his national obligations has no just cause for complaint against the dishonest member of parliament or government official, nor should he object to the profiteering acts of others, when he is attempting to profiteer himself at the expense of his country, that is, at the expense of his friends, neighbors and all fellow citizens. His crime is only different in degree, not in principle.

Until the individual conscience is aroused, the national conscience must remain asleep and the national spirit dead. No government and no country can be better than the people from which a government springs and who themselves are the country. If national honesty is at a low ebb, our national resources will be made the plaything of exploiters and modern buccaneers out for personal gain, rather than be development for the use of the people and the enrichment and glory of the nation.

Much is said about this reform and that reform to promote Canada's welfare and progress, but the basic reform, from which alone these others develop, calling for individual consideration, is our attitude of mind towards Canada itself.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Placing a Ladder

Just when is a ladder safe, both for the man working on it and the people walking under or near it? Safety News has worked out a diagram indicating that the angle of 75 degrees offers the maximum of safety. An easy way to secure this angle is to find the length of the ladder, and then place the ladder feet one-fourth that distance away from the vertical surface it leans against. This angle prevents undue strain or slipping, and yet gives the workman at the top of the ladder sufficient foot-room.

Canada's Universities

Sir Arthur Shipley Praises Training Provided in Canada

When we are so dissatisfied with our general educational system in this country, it is a reason for some measure of gratification to observe our more advanced system lauded by educationalists of the Mother Country. The Royal Colonial Institute in London was informed at a recent meeting by Sir Arthur Shipley that Canada was better off in the matter of universities than Great Britain. He pointed out that this country has more universities than there are in all Great Britain. He gave high praise to the thorough training provided in Canadian universities. Training in medicine "abreast of the best on the European continent," Sir Arthur said, was given in McGill and Toronto Universities. In veterinary science, too, Canada was in some ways in advance of the Old Country. In law, applied science and dentistry, our universities served the country well. An important thing was that university education cost less in Canada than in Britain.—Ottawa Journal.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: — "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

In a single year unscientific loading, accidental damage and the tremendous cost of packing add more than $700,000,000 to the cost of food, clothing and other necessaries. Unused space in freight cars costs $209,000,000 and hauling half-empty cars more than 6,000,000,000 miles costs the railways $157,000,000; damage and theft cost $100,000,000, and lumber that is wasted after being used once in packing cases costs $240,000,000. # Natural Resources Of Western Canada Of Untold Value

Sir John Willison, in a speech delivered before the Canadian Club at Halifax, and dealing with the financial outlook for Canada, gave some interesting facts and figures regarding the potential wealth of this Dominion. Speaking particularly of the undeveloped wealth of the western provinces he said in part:

It is established that in Saskatchewan there is clay for earthenware which would afford the raw material for pottery industries. Indeed, according to one of the provincial ministers a company is now producing "first class articles of clay manufacture." A discovery of white clay near James Bay is reported, which with large deposits of feldspar make it possible for Ontario to manufacture optical glass, fine chinas and ornamental glassware. But we should have greater knowledge of these clays and that we can only acquire by scientific and industrial research. There is no doubt that the return from the fisheries could be enormously increased. The council for scientific and industrial research estimates the loss in solids, comprising chiefly fat and proteins, in the 300,00 tons of waste that is thrown away annually, at $10,000,000 and in oil at $2,000,000. These discoveries alone increase the value of the fisheries by 25 percent. The council is engaged in experiments to determine the commercial feasibility of utilizing as fuel the lignite deposits of the prairie provinces. If these experiments are successful, as they promise to be, not only will industrial development follow, but an annual saving of $18,000,000 involving, at the present value of the dollar, a loss on exchange of $1,750,000 will be affected through the substitution of lignite for coal now imported into Western Canada. There are 57,000,000,000 tons of lignites in Saskatchewan and even a greater quantity of the better grade of this fuel in Alberta. Eventually, too, utilization of valuable by-products will provide raw materials for native industries, and in these Provinces not so well supplied with water powers as the other provinces of the Dominion the vast stores of energy locked up in these lignites will be made available for industrial and agricultural purposes.

One cannot believe that the West with a coal production now greater than that of the Atlantic provinces, will continue to import coal from Pennsylvania. Alberta alone has 16 percent of the world's total coal supply. Industries in Winnipeg have discovered that coal from Alberta is a satisfactory substitute for the imported product. It is certain that western coal will also be utilized for domestic purposes.

Experiments in wheat breeding produced Marquis wheat, the staple wheat of the west, and now the research council is trying to discover a variety of wheat which will ripen early, be wholly rust-resistant, and have good milling and baking qualities. A new process of making binder twine out of flax straw in Saskatchewan has been discovered from which it is believed a great industry will develop and a substantial monetary saving to western farmers be affected. The research council is seeking to discover a method of utilizing the thousands of tons of waste straw which from year to year are burned in the prairie provinces. The fact that we import iron and steel to the value of $154,000,000 should stimulate exploration and research in Canada. Ores which had practically no commercial value 20 years ago are now in high demand. It cannot be doubted that we will develop mines in Canada or methods of treatment which will in degree lessen our dependence upon foreign supplies. The natural resources branch of the department of the interior has just issued a memorandum on the subject of molybdenum. This steel is claimed to be the lightest and strongest that has yet been produced. It is said there are over 100 known sources of molybdenum in the Dominion, some of which have proved very productive. One mine in 1916-17 produced more than any other individual mine in the world. In 1918 the total production in Canada was 189,000 tons which was one-third of the world's production. And it is stated that Canada is in the most favorable position in the empire to supply this metal. In remote northern Manitoba, beyond the Saskatchewan and north of the inland seas of the province, in 1919 copper and gold ores "though the surface has hardly been scratched," were produced to the value of $694,633, timber was cut to the value of $163,000 and furs were taken to the value of $1,867,000. One particular property in this territory is said to contain 20,000,000 tons of copper ore valued at $180,000,000.

The Place to Go Where Fishing Abounds

Alberta Fishing Streams Are to be Restocked by Government

That Alberta streams have the finest fishing from a sportsmans point of view in Canada, is the opinion expressed by G. S. Davidson, chief inspector of fisheries for the western provinces and the northwest territories.

"It is the policy of the fisheries department," said Mr. Davidson, "to close all small streams, which are the spawning ground of most of the game fish, for two years, and to make every effort to restock them and bring them to their former standing, and I have the assurance of the department of fish culture, that everything possible will be done in the matter of re-stocking the streams.

"Alberta will soon be the greatest fishing country in Canada,' said Mr. Davidson, "the north country streams and lakes are fairly alive with fish. An application is now before the department for the granting of a license to a Canadian concern for the fishery rights in the Athabasca district, which is being looked into. The applicants for the fishing rights state they will can and export over 70,000 pounds of fish daily to the Canadian markets."

Whenever a large town in the British Isles changes its source of water supply, a sample is taken by the tea-blenders in order that the right blend of tea may be made to suit that particular water.

Sugar Beets in Alberta Advocated

High Price of Sugar Should Make Crop Very Profitable

That Alberta could become a factor in the sugar beet industry of the world if the farmers in many parts of the province, especially where the lands are irrigated or where there is alkali, would grow sugar beet, is the opinion of the British Columbia fruit commissioner for the province of Alberta. In backing up his statement Mr. Grant said that the sugar farmers in the Salt Lake City district are making a profit of $12 on every 100 pounds of the refined product, and that there is no reason why Alberta farmers should not do the same.

The sugar beet industry was introduced into Alberta some years ago by the Mormons who settled near Raymond, Alberta. The crop returns more than met the expectations of the sugar farmers, but when it came to disposing of their crop, they found that the refineries would pay but very low prices. Conditions, today, however, are vastly different than they were then. The shortage of sugar has been felt all over the world in the past two years, and the prices prevailing at the present day are more than three times higher than they were some years ago.

Some Facts About The Far North

Stefansson Deplores Lack of Knowledge of Canadian People Regarding North

Lamentable ignorance on the part of Canadia people regarding conditions in the far north is due to the teaching on the subject in Canadian schools, according to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the noted explorer, says the Winnipeg Free Press.

These wrong impressions received in childhood are very hard to uproot, he pointed out.

There are 640 different species of flowering plants, and roughly three times as many flowering plants as non-flowering plants in the Arctic country, according to Mr. Stefansson.

In the north, he explained, there are two seasons similar to the seasons of the settled part of Canada.

Just as grass cannot grow here in the winter time, the grass cannot grow in the country around and north of the Arctic circle in the wipter. But in the summer time, one can find Kentucky blue grass, which is the most prevalent among the vegetation up there, golden rod, poppies, blue-bells, dandelions, timothy and watercress, "and these plants grow as far north as any land that has been discovered,' added Mr. tSefansson.

Mr. Stefansson predicted that the northland would be developed in the same way as other countries. He explained that there are rich resources up there, and when asked if the climate would act as a deterrent, replied: "A land is measured by its productivity and not by its climate, and if a land is productive, it will be developed irrespective of its climate."

Mr. Stefansson stated that he expects to set forth on his fourth venture in the Arctic region at no very distant date. He is at present engaged on the completion of a book concerning his last five years in the Arctic, between 1913 and 1918, and said that this would be published in the fall.

Alberta Coal On Winnipeg Market

Summer Shipment of Coal to Storage Will Permit of Continuous Operation of Mines

This summer an attempt on a large scale is to be made to place Alberta coal on the Winnipeg market. Difficulty has been experienced in this market extension work by the lack of storage capacity in Winnipeg, and the unwillingness of the consumer to purchase his coal during the summer, when it could be delivered direct from the cars. To overcome this objection to early ordering, storage sheds, with a capacity of 20,000 tons, are being erected. These sheds will permit the shipping of Alberta coal to Winnipeg during the slack season and storing it against the rush period. This will have a two-fold effect. First, it will relieve the traffic congestion of the autumn, when the railways are handling the grain traffic. Secondly, it will permit the operation of the mines during a period when, owing to the absence of a market for the output they were ordinarily compelled to close down with a reduced staff.

This latter difficulty has had rather a widespread effect, and has militated against the ability of Alberta coal to meet competition. With the closing down of the mines for a portion of the year, the overhead charges of the entire year have had to be absorbed by the period during which the mines were operating, thus increasing cost of production to a considerable extent. The enforced idleness of the miners also had an unsettling effect, and created difficulty in securing and retaining efficient operatives.

This new enterprise of Alberta coal mine operators will be watched with interest, and it is hoped that, with successful operation, the partial dependence of the western cities upon United States coal will be materially relieved.

Wheat Board Will Be Reorganized and Given Wider Power

In reference to the continuance of the Canadian wheat board for another season, the resolution provides that the governor-in-council may appoint a board to be designated "The Canadian Wheat Board," which shall consist of not more than twelve members, including chairman and vice-chairman.

The board may make enquiries and investigation as it deems necessary to ascertain what supplies of wheat are, or may be, available from time to time, the location and ownership of same, the transportation and elevator facilities available in connection therewith, as well as all conditions connected with the marketing and market price than can be obtained for the same. For the purpose of any inquiry or investigation held by the board, the board and several members thereof shall have the powers of a commissioner acting under Part I of the Inquiries Act.

In the schedule of powers the board is given authority similar to that at present enjoyed as regards purchase, storage and transport of wheat, and to sell wheat, in excess of domestic requirements to purchasers overseas for such prices as may be obtainable. The resolution gives the board authority to fix maximum prices or margins of profit at which flour and other products may be sold by millers, and to fix standards for such products.

It may purchase flour from millers at prices to be fixed by the board and sell the same in Canada and other countries. For the purpose of performing its duties the board may allocate Canadian lake tonnage and distribute cars for rail shipments.

The issue of participation certificates and payment of advances is provided for in the resolution, as also is the distribution pro rata after sale of all wheat and deduction of administration expenses.

The board is given power from time to time to appoint an executive committee of not less than three of its members of whom the chairman will be one, and may assign to such executive committee any duties or powers which is within the competence of the board.

It is provided that there shall not be provided on any grain exchange or elsewhere facilities for trading in wheat futures during the time the act based upon these resolutions is in force, except by permission in writing of the board.

Notwithstanding any order-in-Council heretofore passed by the board of grain supervisors of Canada shall not hereafter exercise any power inconsistent with the powers vested in the Canadian wheat board by the proposed legislation.

The proposed act shall continue in force until the day immediately succeeding the day or prorogation of the next session of parliament.

Noted soldiers, financiers, big game hunters and globe trotters, as well as men prominent in the north, were passengers on the first train of the season over the Alberta and Greater Waterways railway to Fort McMurray. Among the prominent passengers who are making the trip, most of them going right through to the mouth of the MacKenzie River, some 1,200 miles north Edmonton are: M. Steas, a prominent financier of Belgium; Lt.-Col. Sir Richard Turner, V.C.; D. K. Miller, of Milwaukee, noted globe trotter and big game hunter; George Boucher, of Toronto; H. A. Conroy, of Ottawa, Indian agent, who is taking the treaty money to the Indians of that district, and many others. The Northland Echo will meet the train at the end of the steel, and will at once start on its long trip down the MacKenzie River to the land of the midnight sun.

Growth of Dairy Industry

Saskatchewan Dairy Association Is Out After More Members

Creamery patrons throughout the province are being urged by the secretary treasurer of the Saskatchewan Dairy association to join the association and also the national dairy council of Canada. In an effort to increase the membership of the Saskatchewan association circular letters are being sent out all over the province.

The remarkable growth of the dairy industry in the province during the past few years is a matter of record in the government blue books. While there were only 31 creameries in operation in the province in 1917 with 13,420 patrons; last year the figures reached 43 creameries and 26,299 patrons.

It is felt that the progress of dairying would be much enhanced if all these patrons were enrolled in the provincial and dominion organization.

Sodium Sulphate Deposits

Wealthy American Syndicate Making Bid to Secure Valuable Mine

The rich sodium sulphate deposits located south of Ceylon, Sask., and which were located some time ago, are now to be extensively developed. The Ceylon Sodium Sulphate Co., Ltd., has applied for incorporation and it is understood that work on the holdings will commence at once. It is stated that New York capitalists are endeavoring to obtain control of these deposits. The property is valued at $3,000,000. Should the American syndicate take over the mine, it will be their intention to erect a refining plant. The deposit is said to be the purest sodium sulphate mine in the world. Four or five by-products can be obtained by the refining process.

Canadian Fisheries

People of Canada Should be Educated to Eat More Fish

The fisheries of Canada represent an asset of $5,000,000 and are capable of enormous development if the people of Canada could be educated to eat more fish, was a statement made by A. H. Brittain, ex-president of the Canadian Fisheries Association and vice-president of the Maritime Fish Corporation, who passed through Winnipeg recently on his way home from the fisheries convention at Vancouver.

Mr. Brittain stated that if Canadians would eat more fish that a considerable stride would have been taken to fight the high cost of living. "Fish," he declared, "is the cheapest food in Canada today and only a small percentage of the fish products of Canada are consumed in the Dominion. The majority is sent to the United States, South America and West Indies."

Love of The Wild

— BY —

ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

Printed by Special Arrangements with Thos. Allen, Toronto, Ont.

Far over the pines of the Point another dark bunch would grow into space, and, turning, throw a gleam of white upon the watcher's sight. These were blue-bills, hardiest of all the wild-ducks. They were tired and unafraid and ready to make friends with any water-fowl, whether they were of their own kind or a flock of despised coot. Great flocks of peerless canvas-backs, their wings dipping in unison, their white backs gleaming in the morning light, would grow up and fade and grow to life again. They would sweep around and around the bay, craning their long necks suspiciously, settling ever lower, and passing many a flock of dozing ruddy ducks, that were resting, having fed long before the dawn of day.

Boy would watch these wild, free things with all the joy of a wild sympathy with them. As far as the eye could reach were ducks and beyond the bay was the wild Point, and above all the wild sky with angry darts of light like ragged knives, slashing its breast here and there.

Naturally Boy resented the advance of anything tended to destroy the pictures of his world.

A big man from civilization, who owned the strip of timber across the creek, had built a mill thereon, and all day long now, that mill sang its song of derision and the swaths in the wood were growing wider. It was his own timber the man was cutting, —nobody could gainsay that fact; but he was destroying, each day, the creek, that silver thread that had been for so long a home for duck and mink and water-rat. He was destroying beauty and crippling the usefulness of the best trapping and fishing ground of the Bushwhackers. A discord had been set vibrating throughout that wooded fastness. The sibilant song of Hallibut's mill was driving the fur-bearing animals to seek more secluded haunts. The wood-ducks that had nested close in along the wooded shore, drifted far back to another creek, and the black ducks did not flutter lazily along the marsh throughout the breeding season now, but high in the air and remote from the noise and smoke and jar that was a new and fearful thing to them.

Boy McTavish hated that mill; and that schoolhouse of white boards clinging to the hill he hated, too. Hatred was a strange element with him. It sickened his soul, crushed him, and robbed him of all his old-time restfulness of spirit. The discord could not pass him by.

CHAPTER V.

Even in this golden, hazy dawn it was with him, as he stood gazing across the creek. The crimson sun warmed his cheeks and the heavy scent of over-ripe woods-plants stole to his senses like a soothing balm. But that scar upon which eyes rested had reached his inmost soul, and for him the old gladness of sweet, dewy mornings must hereafter be tempered with a new and strange bitterness.

From the tall smokestack of Hallibut's mill a thin wreath of smoke ascending cut a spiral figure against the fleecy clouds.

Boy turned and walked up the path with his head bowed and his hands deep in his pockets. Behind him trailed the setter, looking neither to the right nor the left. His moods were always suited to his master's. For some reason Boy was sad. Therefore, Joe was sad.

When the path forked Boy turned, and catching sight of the dog's wistful face, he threw back his head and laughed. Then he turned, and, bending caught the setter about the neck with strong arms.

"Joe," he whispered, "you're an old fool."

The dog submitted to the caress gravely and sat down, looking up into his master's face with deep sympathetic eyes.

Adown through the woods came a voice in rollicking song:

"Massar gone away, de darkey say
'Ho! ho!'
Mus' be now dat de kingdom's comin'
I' de year ob jubiloo."

"That's Bill, pup," laughed Boy. "He always sings when he's washin' his breakfast dishes. Come on, let's go over and borrow his pitchfork. You and me have got to dig tater's today."

A few hundred yards further on they found the singer. He was clad in Bushwhacker buckskins from head to foot.

"Hello, Boy, how's your ma?" he called as he caught sight of the visitors.

"Just about the same, I guess," Boy answered. "Nobody up when I left, so I can't just say how ma spent the night. Want to borrow your fork, Bill."

"Take it an' anythin' else you see as you'd like. Say, won't you step in the house and have a cup of tea?"

"I ain't much on tea drinkin' as you know, Bill, and I must be hittin' the trail back soon, 'cause we want to get the taters dug before night."

"All right, as soon as I put these dishes away I'll get you the fork."

Boy's eyes followed his friend sympathetically, and when Paisley rejoined him he asked hesitatingly:

"Say, Bill, why do you live alone here like you do? Ain't it lonesome for you?"

"Some." Paisley dried his hands on a towel and sat down on a stump. "It's some lonesome; yes. But I've sort of got used to it you see."

Boy seated himself on a log and leaned back, nursing his knee in his hands.

"How about Mary Ann?" he asked.

Bill shook his head.

"Too good and too young for me, Boy. She don't just think me her style I guess. That young teacher chap, now, he is just about Mary Ann's style."

Boy's eyes narrowed.

"He's just about Gloss's style, too," he said slowly. "He's some different from us bush-fellers, is Mr. Simpson."

"I don't take to him very well myself," said Paisley, looking away, "but of course, Mary Ann's bound to see him a lot, him boardin' at her mother's, and maybe he'll see as he can't afford to miss gettin' a girl like Mary Ann, pervidin' she's willin'."

"How many times have you asked her, Bill?"

"Twice a year—every spring and fall, for the past three years."

Paisley laughed queerly and stooped down to pat the setter's shaggy sides.

"Boy," he said, "don't ever get carin' for a woman; it's some hell."

Boy leaned back with a deep breath. His eyes were on a tiny wreath of smoke drifting between the tree-tops and the sky.

"I ask her twice a year regular," went on Paisley. "It's got to be a custom now. It'll soon be time to ask her again."

A yellow-hammer swooped across the open and, alighting on a decayed stump, began to grub out a breakfast. He was a gay, mottled-breasted chap, with a dash of crimson on his head. The drab-colored thrush that had been preening himself on a branch of a nearby tree ruffled his feathers and flew further back into the bush. Boy frowned at the intruder and arose slowly from his log. He glanced up to find Paisley looking at him.

"Somethin's wrong with you, Boy" said the man; "what is it?"

"I was watchin' them birds," Boy answered. "You saw what the big, greedy chap did to the thrush—he drove him away; and it made me think of what Hallibut and his agents are tryin' to do with us Bushwhackers."

"They can't do it," cried Paisley, "just let 'em try it."

"Hallibut threatens that he'll own all this part of the country. He's too much of a coward to come over and try to get it himself, but he's tryin' to get it through others, as you know."

Motorists and Pedestrians

"The time is not far distant," said an elderly citizen of Toronto, the other day, "I may not live to see it, perhaps, but some of you will, when every pedestrian in the city will be forced to wear a red electric bulb in his necktie and carry a red lantern swinging to his coat-tails behind."

As the reader will readily infer, this elderly gentleman was, at the moment, somewhat incensed at the argument of motorists that pedestrians ought to be compelled to keep out of the way of motor cars.—Toronto Star.

Winnipeg Records Show That 110,000 Trees Have Been Planted

Winnipeg has passed special ordinances to protect trees. It is an offense for persons other than authorized officials to tamper with them. Residential sections of Winnipeg are gradually becoming park-like stretches shaded by large trees. The city records show that 110,000 trees have been planted within the city limits, including the parks. Of this number 75,000 are on the streets. The parks board, which has jurisdiction over the boulevards, has planted 28,000 trees along the 120 miles of street so beautified, the total cost for tree planting being $26,000. Property owners have been responsible for the planting of 447,000 more trees on the boulevards in front of their residences.

NORRIS SECURES LARGEST VOTE IN MANITOBA

Farmers and Independents May Organize Into Single Group

Winnipeg. — The results of the Manitoba elections would indicate that the large single group which will sit in the next legislature will be the followers of the Norris Government. With two deferred elections, the Pas and Rupert's Land, and the results of the proportional representation vote in Winnipeg not yet announced, the standing is as follows: Government, 17 seats; Farmers, 9 seats; Labor, 7 seats; Conservatives, 6 seats; Independents, 4 seats.

The presence in the field of numerous farmers and independents, provided the three-cornered and, in some cases, four-cornered contests, which upset the calculations of the experts. It is regarded as certain that in essentials of his policy, Premier Norris could count upon the support of a considerable number of those candidates who were elected, and political statisticians are inclined to think that an agreement upon the various minority groups to upset the government is not among the probabilities.

Labor will present the second strongest group in next legislature, outnumbering the Conservatives, who, according to latest returns, have lost their leader, R. G. Willis, in Turtle Mountain. Apparently it is possible for the independents and farmers who will have seats in the house, to organize into a distinct group, which would be able to hold the balance of power, but in this connection, it is claimed by the Liberals, that at least three men in this number, Little, of Beautiful Plains; McKinnel, of Rockwood, and Emmond, of Swan River, are counted upon to give the Norris government a general support.

The Manitoba legislature normally meets in January, and it is pointed out that, lacking intervention by the lieutenant-governor, there is no reason why the government should not carry on in the meantime and, when the house is in session, settle its immediate fate by a vote of confidence. Doubtless the interval would be marked by nothing which might be expected to result in a definite alignment of the smaller groups for offense and defence. The strategic position of the Norris forces is strengthened, it is pointed out, by the fact that all the members of the government were elected. One cabinet seat is vacant, through the recent death of the minister of agriculture.

On July 10 railway officials and members of the immigration and colonization will meet to discuss matters for the importations of these laborers.

MAIN NAVAL ESTIMATES ARE FINALLY PASSED

Hon. Arthur Meighen and Dr. Michael Clark Cross Swords

Ottawa.—The main naval estimate of $300,000, together with the supplementary vote of $1,700,000, were passed in the house of commons.

In reply to a question and after Sir Robert Borden had undertaken to table the navy correspondence, unless it was of a confidential character, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said there was only one cablegram which said that Canada could not accept all the ships Great Britain offered.

Hon. Arthur Meighen crossed swords with Dr. Michael Clark on the former's speech to the effect that the Liberal party had ridiculed the German menace in 1909, and although this has passed away the British empire is still compelled to guard against possible foes. Dr. Clark asked if Mr. Meighen foresaw the general menace when he joined forces with Bourassa to scrap Canada's naval policy. He asked how Canadian trade routes were to be protected with five warships.

Mr. Mackenzie King threatened to stand in the way of proroguing unless the house adjourned after adopting the naval estimates, according to the agreement which he claimed had been arrived at. Hon. Jacques Bureau said there had been an obvious misunderstanding between the two leaders and suggested a compromise by passing one estimate then and leave the other over. This was finally agreed to and the house adjourned.

For Imperial Veterans

Trainmen Refuse To Carry Soldiers

Government is Taking Over Railways In Ireland

Dublin. —Newbridge, County Kildare, is the great military centre serving Curragh, the Aldershot of Ireland, and it was sought to despatch soldiers thence by a train passing from Kilkenny to Dublin.

The driver refused to carry them and the soldiers remained on the train. Subsequently trains from Athlone and Thurles and Dublin were similarly boarded by soldiers and blocked. The stranded passengers drove to Kildare to catch the through train not stopping at Newbridge. The soldiers have orders to board any train available, so the situation cannot be relieved by the despatch of trains from Dublin. The government has had offers of a score of men from Belfast to operate the trains but has not accepted them. The situation is declared to be serious. The government is taking over the trains and entering upon a general conflict should the drivers persist in refusing to move troops on trains.

Russian Reply Unsatisfactory

London. — Krassin, Russian Soviet minister of trade and commerce, had a conference with Premier Lloyd George at the premier's office. The meeting lasted an hour.

The object of Krassin's visit to the Premier was to submit to him Moscow's reply concerning the Soviet's attitude toward the foreign debt and private property of foreigners expropriated by the Russian government.

It is said that the reply was unsatisfactory, but that negotiations would be continued.

DEBATE OVER FRANCHISE BILL IN HOUSE

Third Reading Carried After Amendments by Majority of Twenty-Six

Ottawa.—The franchise bill which has occupied the house of commons for a large part of the present session, was passed after several amendments had been adopted. There were several divisions and a brief debate on the oposition amendment which sought to compel newspapers to print the name of advertisers paying for matter published in suport of political parties.

Third reading of the bill was finally passed by a majority of 26 after an amendment proposed by A. R. McMaster was defeated by a vote of 86 to 60. Hon. W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge, and F. L. Davis, Neepawa, voted against the government in support of the amendment. The Farmers' party voted against the government.

Mr. McMaster proposed that election advertisements in any form bear the name of the person or organisation paying for the advertisement.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that evils of election advertisements through public journls were greatly exaggerated. It would be more to the point if newspaper articles bear the signature of the writer.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said that the important thing was that powerful interests be prevented from backing a political party without the knowledge of the public.

Hon. W. S. Fielding had an amendment to refer the bill back to committee with instructions to provide that where there were two or more constituencies vacant, by-elections be held on one day. The house declined on the amendment. It was defeated by 77 to 58—a government majority of 19.

His mission is being undertaken at the request also, of the Canadian Manufacturers' association, the coal mining branch of which has been taking an active interest in the possible shipment of western coal to Ontario.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

To Tow Rafts to Europe

Victoria, B. C.—Swedish lumbermen have been on the coast and successfully investigated the possibility of rafting lumber from British Columbia to Europe. Rafts of large size, called rafanutes, have been successfully towed from Sweden to Great Britain. It is believed that the huge timbers of the province will possible the construction and successful operation of rafanutes larger than those shipped out of the Baltic, which contain four or five million feet each. The rafts leaving the Pacific Coast will probably contain from 15 to 20 million feet.

Vancouver, B. C.—The Rat Portage Company has sold timber limits containing fir and some cedar on the southwest of Vancouver Island to John W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids, Michigan, for $400,000. A mill will be erected on the property.

Fruit Shipments to Britain Increase

Sicamous, B. C.—Apple shipments from the Okanagan Valley to Great Britain during the past season amounted to 320 carloads as compared with only 85 in the best previous year. Inquiries indicate that shipments to Great Britain during the coming year will greatly exceed even this enviable record. Several large British buyers are on their way to British Columbia, including the representatives of both the English and Scottish Co-operative Societies, who have not previously been interested in the Pacific coast orchard products.

Board of Trade Gathering

Pigs in Alfalfa

Thrive on Alfalfa With One-Third Less Grain

While an alfalfa pasture will first make the pig happy it will soon make his owner happy also, for he will find that pigs on alfalfa pasture can be grown into better pigs on one-third less grain than is required where they are fed in a dry lot. Also home grown grains can be used entirely, thus eliminating the purchase of high-priced concentrates. Other pastures will, of course, serve to some extent the same purpose, but no others combine the same degree of palatability, productivity, and permanency that are found in alfalfa.

Twenty to twenty-five spring pigs can be pastured per acre of alfalfa, from May 15 to September 10 without danger of injury to the alfalfa, and a light cutting of hay be taken off besides in late June.

Wheat Prospects

The Europeans cannot afford to go on buying food for which they cannot pay; no more can they afford to neglect their own fields, where they have the means of self-sustenance. The French expect to harvest almost enough wheat this summer for their needs in the year ahead. The British are busily restoring the exports that assure them their wheat from Canada, Australia and South America. The people of Austria and certain other sections of middle Europe will remain in need, for a time, of the wheat that they have not the means to buy. But the problem of feeding them should diminish little by little. —New York Evening Sun.

Owe Debt to Themselves

Nine-tenths of the public debt of Great Britain is held by men and women of that country. While £400,000,000 must be raised annually in taxes to pay interest and sinking fund requirements, that money goes back to the creditors. In no sense has the foreigner a mortgage on the Motherland.

Monks introduced silk manufacture in Europe in the sixth century, having learned the art in China.

A Hidden Hand

A great game is being played in Ireland, but the Irish people are not the players, they are merely the pawns in the game. The real players on the Irish side are hidden. They are not in Ireland. This game has gone on for centuries and it will continue just so long as the Irish people will allow their blind hatred of England to make them easy tools for those who are interested in the destruction of England.

DOUBLE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

"Danderine" creates mass of thick, gleamy waves

In a few moments you can transform your plain, dull, flat hair. You can have it abundant, soft, glossy and full of life. Just get at any drug or toilet counter a small bottle of "Danderine" for a few cents. Then moisten a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, so soft, lustrous and easy to do up. All dust, dirt and excessive oil is removed.

Let Danderine put more life, color, vigor, and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, check dandruff and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick, strong and beautiful.

Trial is Inexpensive. — To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from derangement of the digestive system, a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended, should the sufferer be unacquainted with them. The trial will be inexpensive and the result will be another customer for this excellent medicine. So effective is their action that many cures can certainly be traced to their use where other pills have proved ineffective.

Old London Not Crowded

Many journals are featuring stories about the alleged overcrowded state of London, Eng., hotels for the present season. London is certainly full, but information is that with the exception of the swagger places, there is room for the less ambitious visitors, while flats are rentable for a period and are actually slumping. A well-known Canadian traffic manager says real tourists are not as numerous as expected, the majority of the visitors having definite business other than mere sight-seeing.

Work Hitherto Carried on by Extension Department

The Boys' and Girls' Club work, hitherto carried on by the extension department of the University of Saskatchewan in co-operation with the provincial department of agriculture has been taken over by the department of education and will be carried on in future under the school agricultural branch of this department. The department has just secured the services of Mr. Harry Saville, who has been appointed assistant in school agriculture for Boys' and Girls' Club work. Mr. Saville is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, obtaining the degree of B.S.A. in 1916. Mr. F. W. Bates is director of Rural Education and School Fairs for Saskatchewan.

Asthma Uo Longer Dreaded.—The dread of renewed attacks from asthma has no hold upon those who have learned to rely upon Dr. J. D. Kellog's Asthma Remedy. So safe do they feel that complete reliance is placed on this true specific with the certainty that it will always do all that its makers claim. If you have not yet learned how safe you are with this preparation at hand get it today and know for yourself.

Nitric Acid from the Air

Private Company Will Take Over Plant in England

England will soon begin to produce in large quantities of ammonia and nitric acid made with the aid of the nitrogen from the air. A large factory for this production begun during the war by the government at Billingham-on-Tees, near Stockton, was completed recently. It will now be transferred to private interests for operation. It is the first factory erected in England for the production of ammonia by this process, which was invented by the Germans, and has since been improved upon by the research chemists attached to the staff of the Ministry of Munitions.

The company which will take over the factory will reimburse the nation for the money already spent and will invest new capital. The whole transaction represents an investment of between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

King George receives an average of 25,000 letters a year from his subjects.

TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly be Kept Rich and Pure

If you suffer from any form of indigestion, your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, find fuel for energy and defence against its enemies, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence, when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when digestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion the blood should be kept rich and red, and this can best be done by taking a course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. These pills are a blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic and through their use your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite will improve and your food will do you good. The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Barrichfield, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was in a terribly broken down condition. I had indigestion of a severe nature, and sharp pains of agony all through me. My stomach was so weak that it was difficult to retain food, and often after eating I would have vomiting spells. I was under medical treatment, but as I did not improve my nerves were in a terrible condition and I was always in such misery. One day I read of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I decided to try them. The result can be summed up by saying that after using the pills for some weeks I was completely cured, could eat a hearty meal and was again enjoying life. If I feel run down at any time I take Dr. Williams Pink Pills and always get benefit from them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some Sold to Speculators

Will Make a Fat Killing at the Expense of Farmers

The estimate is made that the province of Saskatchewan will secure $32,000,000 more for 1919 wheat from the cashing of the participation certificates at 40c a bushel. Taking western Canada as a whole, the increased return will probably be between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000. It is when we begin to figure on a basis of total wheat marketed, that we appreciate properly the significance of the Wheat Board's achievement. The only unfortunate feature of the situation is that so many farmers listened to those who told them that these certificates were worth little or nothing and sold them at anywhere from 2c to 10c. The consequence is that speculators will make a fat killing at their expense. The farmers have reason to ask to be delivered from their "Friends." — Edmonton Journal.

Painting the Town

Santiago is Described As A Chaotic Jumble of Pigments

All Cuban cities offer a motley of tints, says the Century Magazine, but Santiago outdoes them all in the chaotic jumble of pigments. In a single block we found house walls of lavender, sap green, robin's egg maize yellow, sky grey, saffron, deep imperial pink, old rose, light pink, yellow ochre, maroon, tan, vermillion and purple. This jumble of colors, with never two shades of the same degree, give the city a kaleidoscopic brilliancy under the tropical sun that is equally entrancing and trying to the eye.
